WILSON MESSAGE ASKS HUGE RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

ANSWER OF CARRANZA EXPECTED IN WEEK

Use of Word Request In the American Notes Leaves Door Open

FURTHER LETTERS CAN BE WRITTEN IN CASE

Army of Mexican Federal Soldiers Annihilated By Villa Force, Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Carranza of Mexico is expected to reply within a week to the last American note requesting immediate release of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent, imprisoned at Puebla. It was stated on high authority that use of the word "request" in the two notes, calling for Jenkins' release did not close the door to further correspondence, as would have been the case had the word "demand" been used.

Story of Slaughter of 674 Carranzistas Is Now Denied

EL PASO, Dec. 2.—Paulino Fontes, director general of railways in Mexico, arrived here today with an emphatic denial of the latest Villa massacre story. His statement, backed by other officials in the party, was regarded as completely refuting the stories told here by earlier arrivals from Chihuahua city.

The sensational story of the slaughter of 674 Carranza soldiers of the Rancho Espejo garrison by one thousand Villistas, however, was credited along the border today, despite official denials. Vice Consul Alberto Sandoval of the Mexican consulate in El Paso, after talking with the Juarez telegraph office this morning emphatically expressed his disbelief in the reported massacre.

In addition to Dr. L. G. Gomez of Los Angeles, another Chihuahua City arrival here, J. B. Perez, agent of a New York importing concern, declared he witnessed in Santa Rosalia heart-rending scenes of mourning on the part of wives and relatives of the murdered Carranzistas.

Perez stated today that Villa, far from being "down and out," as generally believed along the border, is credited in northern Mexico with having 2,000 strongly armed followers. Perez heard rumors that Villa was planning to launch a new campaign of which the Rancho Espejo massacre, north of Santa Rosalia, was the beginning.

Although the garrison was wiped out last Friday, with the exception of a colonel and lieutenant colonel, no official report of the occurrence has reached the Mexican consulate here, according to Vice Consul Sandoval.

In El Paso the massacre was said to exceed anything Villa has ever been charged with. It is this latest massacre report is true, authorities here pointed out, it strengthens the charge brought in the American note to Mexico on the Jenkins case, made public yesterday, that Carranza cannot protect not even the leading cities of Mexico against the outlaws.

Cordova, the Puebla bandit who captured American Consul Agent Jenkins, has surrendered to the Mexican government, according to a report reaching here this afternoon. The surrender was reported to have been made on Saturday in Puebla.

Expect Wisconsin Man To Be Heard Often In House

Representative John J. Esch.

Speech Made on Railroad Situation Is Declared Most Notable

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Congressman John J. Esch, Republican from Wisconsin, is expected to be heard many times during the present session which opened yesterday. His recent speech on the railroad situation in which he declared that government ownership and the Plumb plan were impossible has been pronounced as one of the most notable and convincing arguments heard in congress for years. Congressman Esch is the author of the measure returning the railroads to private ownership. He is chairman of the House committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. He is expected to take a very prominent part in the deliberations of the House this session.

DEATH CALLS H. C. FRICK SUDDENLY TODAY

Steel Magnate, 70, Succumbs to Ptomaine Poisoning at New York Home

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Henry Clay Frick, steel magnate, died today of ptomaine poisoning. Frick was 70 years old. He had been ill for several days.

The end came suddenly at 5 o'clock this morning at Frick's home, Fifth avenue and Seventeenth street, his physician, Dr. John S. Connors, announced. When Frick retired from business several years ago, he was known as one of the nine or ten richest men in the United States and one of the most influential in the business world.

An associate of the late Andrew Carnegie, he early laid the basis of his tremendous fortune as a flour miller and distiller. Later he entered the coke business and from this developed the H. C. Frick Company, which became the largest coke producing firm in the world with 40,000 acres of holdings in the Pennsylvania coal fields and 12,000 coke ovens with a daily capacity of 25,000 tons.

Shot, Stabbed by Berkman. Frick came prominently into the public eye in 1892, during the famous steel strike at Homestead, Pa., when he was shot and stabbed several times by Alexander Berkman, now awaiting deportation.

He was chairman of the board of directors of the firm of Carnegie Brothers from 1889 to 1892 and later was made chairman of the board of managers of the Carnegie Steel Company. He was at one time director of the Pennsylvania Railway Company, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; the Chicago and Northwestern; the U. S. Steel Corporation; the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh; the Union Trust Company and the Norfolk and Western railway.

Frick's bitter fight to break the Homestead strike made him one of the employers most hated by radicals. His retirement eight years ago created a stir in the financial world. It came soon after the retirement of his associate, Carnegie, and John D. Rockefeller. The three were at that time the foremost leaders in American finance.

One of Richest Men. Frick was said to be in the best of health at the time of his retirement and considerable surprise was expressed that he should quit active work at the comparatively early age of 62. It was reported at that time that he was the wealthiest man with the sole exception of Rockefeller in the United States and probably in the world.

He was known as one of the greatest art collectors in the world. His collection when he retired was estimated as worth millions. He was said to have paid $500,000 for a single picture.

Frick had the reputation of being silent enough to deserve the name "Sphinx." He was extremely successful in avoiding publicity although the guiding genius in a score of great industrial, railroad and financial organizations.

The United States Steel Corporation's success in preventing unionization of its labor was attributed largely to Frick's untiring fight against organization of the steel industry by the American Federation of Labor. The attitude of Judge Gary in refusing to treat with union representatives, recently was said to be merely a following out of the early policies of Frick.

Some Salient Points Gleaned from the President's Message

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson in his message to congress recommended:

Establishment of a national budget system.

Simplification of income and excess profits taxes.

Legislation to secure employment and land for service men.

Laws to encourage increased crop production.

Protection for America's new chemical and dyestuffs industry.

Federal aid in the building of good roads.

Development of forest resources.

Enactment of Attorney General Palmer's legislation for dealing with the reds.

Legislation to reduce the cost of living and extension of the Lever act.

Laws to bring about democratization of industry, including participation of workers in decisions affecting their welfare.

Establishment of the principles regarding labor laid down by the league of nations.

LIMOUSINE, GIRL CLEWS TO BANK ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 2.—A big blue limousine and a woman were the only clues the police could find today to the four or more masked bandits who robbed the Union Square branch of the Hellman Bank of $17,265 in currency and approximately $10,000 in Liberty Bonds and other securities just as the bank was closing yesterday.

Both of these clues were indefinite—of the hearsay variety.

Persons in the vicinity of the bank told of the blue limousine which stood nearby during the ten minutes it took the quartet to clean out all visible assets. The police are looking for it.

The woman, who is being questioned by detectives, came into the case when it was reported to the police that she had told others that she knew an ex-convict who was "going to pull off a job" here. So far she has told nothing of value in the investigation.

The bandits worked cleverly. Three of them covered the three men and two women employees of the bank while a fourth stood watch outside. Then the bank employees were herded into a private office and held there by one of the robbers, while the other two methodically looted the cash drawers and vault.

Then the bank staff was locked in the vault while the bandits escaped, presumably in the blue limousine.

INDUSTRIES STILLED BY COAL SHORTAGE

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The industrial life of the Middle West was slowly but surely being stilled today by the coal shortage.

Renewal of war-time restrictions on coal consumption was to be placed in effect today. No coal will be distributed to any but industries which are necessary to the well being of the people.

FURTHER REGULATION OF COAL CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Further regulation of coal distribution to effect greater economy of fuel was being considered today in accordance with the government's policy of standing fast and waiting for the striking miners to resume work.

CURB BOLSHIEVISM, CUT LIVING COSTS, REMOVE LABOR TROUBLE, URGED

President Requests Legislation That Will Aid Farmers Produce Larger Crops, Simple System of Taxation, Control Government Expenditures by Budget System; Treaty and League of Nations Are Not Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson today sent to Congress a message urging an extensive program of reconstruction legislation. His communication was devoted entirely to the great problem confronting the nation.

Legislation was recommended to curb bolshevism in America, reduce living costs, remove the grievances of labor which are causing industrial troubles, aid farmers to produce bigger crops, simplify the system of taxation built up during the war, control government expenditures by a budget system and care for the nation's soldiers and sailors who have left the service.

Though the president several times referred to the peace treaty and the league of nations he did not discuss the treaty situation. He will do so in a later message according to reliable information today. He will also deal later with the railroad question, he informed the legislature.

Much of the message was devoted to discussion of the labor problem. To solve it, the president said, congress "must now help in the difficult task of finding a method that will bring about a genuine democratization of industry based upon the full recognition of the right of those who work, in whatever rank, to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare."

No better means of doing this can be found, the president declared, than by applying in legislation the principles set up in the labor section of the league of nations covenant. To go back to old standards of labor and wages is impossible, he said.

Age-long Antagonisms Between Capital and Labor Must Be Ended Soon

Age-long antagonisms between capital and labor must be ended, he declared, before world stability can be accomplished. In this the United States, he said, is bid by the world unrest to "put our own house in order" and "be the first to lay the foundation stones" of industrial peace. The president warned against anti-strike legislation.

"The right of individuals to strike is inviolate," he declared, "and ought not to be interfered with by any process of government."

But, he added, that the government has the predominant right to protect all the people against the challenging aggression of any single class.

Analysis of labor's complaint, the president told congress, shows it is based upon justice. Capital, too, he declared, has a right to an adequate return, and the government, he warned, must never "play" capital and labor against each other.

Blame for the unrest in the country was placed partly upon the senate for its failure to ratify the peace treaty.

One cause of this unrest, the president asserted, is "the failure on the part of our government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace permitting return to normal conditions."

While congress should deal with the activities of reds and agitators the president advised against action either "impetuous or drastic." He urged that the causes of unrest be sought and removed, and outlined them thus:

"The causes of this unrest, while various and complicated, are superficial rather than deep-seated. Broadly, they arise from, or are connected with, the failure on the part of our government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace * * * from the transference of radical theories from seething European centers, * * * from heartless profiteering, * * * and lastly, from the machination of malevolent agitators."

Stronger Laws Against Anarchists Should Be Granted at Once, Says Wilson

Stronger laws against anarchists should be enacted at once, he urged.

The president appealed again for enactment of the comprehensive program he proposed at the special session to lower living costs.

President Wilson opened his recommendations with the hope that a budget system will be established which will put the preparation of appropriation estimates under direction of the president and provide for an audit system to determine whether the money has been economically spent.

Immediate necessity dictates simplification of the income and profits taxes, the president said. He warned that if income and profits tax rates are left too high they may prove destructive to business and not productive of revenue.

He also warned against a tariff too high for European manufacturers.

Tariff legislation protecting the chemical and dye industries of this country against German efforts to regain the market is, however, necessary, the president said.

Wilson repeated his request for legislation to provide farms for soldiers. He recommended again legislation making available for them the cut-over lands and unused lands in the West. The president urged encouragement of the farmers and legislation which will make rural life more attractive as a means of stimulating food production. He included recommendations for developing forest resources and continuation of the building of good roads under the system of state aid now in effect.

The president suggested establishment of a tribunal before which disputes between capital and labor can be taken for settlement.

Referring to unrest to which subject the president gave much space in his message Wilson said:

"I would call your attention to the widespread conditions of political restlessness of our body politic. The causes of unrest while various and complicated are superficial rather than deep seated. Broadly they arise from or are connected with the failure of our government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace permitting return to normal conditions, from the transference of radical theories, from heartless profiteering resulting in the increase in the cost of living and lastly from the machinations of passionate, malevolent agitators.

"With the return of normal conditions this unrest will rapidly disappear. In the meantime it does much evil. It seems to me that in dealing with this situation Congress should not be too quick or drastic, but should rather seek to remove the causes. It should endeavor to bring our country to a peace basis with amelioration of living conditions under the minimum of restrictions upon personal liberty that is consistent with our reconstruction problems.

"And it should arm the federal government with power to deal in its criminal courts with these persons who by violent methods would abrogate our time-tested institutions. With the free expression of opinion and the advocacy of orderly political change however fundamental, there must be no interference but toward peace and maintenance leading to incite crime and insurrection under guise of political evolution there should be no leniency. Legislation to this end has been recommended by the attorney general and should be enacted."

In conclusion the president said:

"America will not be daunted by threats nor lose her composure or calmness in these distressing times. We can afford in the midst of this day of passion and unrest to be self-contained and sure. The instrument of all reforms in America is the ballot. The road to economic and social reform in America is the straight road of justice to all classes and conditions of men. Men have but to follow this road to realize the full fruition of their objects and purposes. Let those beware who would take the shorter road of disorder and revolution. The right road is the road of justice and orderly progress."

The text of the president's message to congress, in part, follows:

"I sincerely regret that I cannot be present at the opening of this session of the congress. I am thus prevented from presenting in as direct a way as I wish the many questions that are pressing for solution at this time. Happily I have had the advantage of advice of the heads of the several executive departments, who have kept in close touch with affairs in their detail and whose thoughtful recommendations I earnestly second.

"In the matter of the railroads and the readjustment of their affairs growing out of federal control, I shall take the liberty at a later date of addressing you.

"I hope that congress will bring to a conclusion this session legislation looking to the establishment of a budget system. That there should be one single authority responsible for the making of all appropriations and that appropriations shall be made not independently with each other, but with reference to one single comprehensive plan of expenditure properly related to the nation's income, there can be no doubt. I believe the burden of preparing the budget must, in the nature of the case, if the work is to be properly done and responsibility concentrated instead of divided, rest upon the executive.

"The budget so prepared should be submitted to and approved or amended by a single committee of each

The last of this month a committee of Methodists is to visit a number of proposed sites that will be considered for selection as the site for the big Methodist assembly ground on this coast. Two Orange county ministers appear upon the committee, and at least one place in Orange county, Huntington Beach, will be discussed for selection.

For years the Southern California Methodists have been holding a summer assembly at Huntington Beach. Recently a plan was developed for selecting some place at which not only the Southern California assembly could be held but where coast conferences and other big gatherings, together with other activities, might be conducted.

That the logical place for the big assembly is Huntington Beach has been recognized by a large number of the Methodist leaders. However, there have been other places entering wedges of persuasion, and there is the possibility that the Methodists' big assembly will be located elsewhere than at Huntington Beach. If it located elsewhere it is altogether probable that the summer assembly of the Southern California Methodists will no longer be held at Huntington Beach but will be held at the new location.

All Orange county will be with Huntington Beach in the effort to have Huntington Beach named for the big assembly.

Recently a proposal was made to the Methodists to have the big assembly located at Naples, in Los Angeles county, just over the county line from Seal Beach. That Naples will be a strong contender for the award of location is understood.

At a meeting of Methodist ministers held in Los Angeles yesterday it was decided that a committee consisting of the superintendents of assemblies and five Methodist ministers will view the various sites offered. The inspection of sites will be held on December 27.

Rev. Charles H. Scott, superintendent of the Huntington Beach Methodist assembly, is on the committee. The ministers on the committee are Rev. S. S. Sampson of Orange, chairman, Rev. Charles Edward Locke of Los Angeles, Rev. John Oliver of Santa Ana, Rev. L. T. Guild of Long Beach and Rev. Merle Smith of Pasadena.

house of congress and no single appropriation should be made by congress, except such as may be included in the budget prepared by the executive or added by the particular committee of congress charged with the budget legislation.

"Another and not less important aspect of the problem is the ascertainment of the economy and efficiency with which the moneys appropriated are expended. Under existing law the only audit is for the purpose of ascertaining whether expenditures have been lawfully made within the appropriations. No one is authorized or equipped to ascertain whether the money has been spent wisely, economically and effectively.

For Permanent Auditors
"The auditors should be highly trained officials with permanent tenure in the treasury department, free of obligations to or motives of consideration for this or any subsequent administration and authorized and empowered to examine into and make report upon the methods employed and results obtained by the executive departments of the government. Their reports should be made to the congress and the secretary of the treasury."

"I trust that congress will give its immediate consideration to the problem of future taxation. Simplification of the income and profits taxes has become an immediate necessity. These taxes performed indispensable service during the war. They must, however, be simplified, not only to save the taxpayer inconvenience and expense but in order that his liability may be made certain and definite.

"With reference to the details of the revenue law, the secretary of the treasury and the commissioners of internal revenue will lay before you for your consideration certain amendments, desirable in connection with the administration of the law—recommendations which have my approval and support."

FOUR CARS DAMAGED IN DOWNTOWN CRASH

Three automobiles parked on the west side of Broadway, just north of Fourth, yesterday afternoon sustained slight damage when a Nash roadster driven by Mrs. Alice M. Hinckly, 112 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, bumped into them. Mrs. Hinckly was driving south on Broadway and drove her car into the rear of the three machines in an effort to avoid a collision with a machine traveling north and passing another car going in the same direction.

The damaged cars were the Ford of F. A. Marks, Dodge of O. E. Phillips of 1014 North Ross, and Oldsmobile roadster of W. G. Berge of Los Angeles, Alemitte representative. The injuries to the machines were minor, the car driven by Mrs. Hinckly sustaining the most damage. The right front wheel was twisted some and the running board on the right side ripped off. Mrs. Hinckly carries insurance in the Auto Club of Southern California, and Marks' car is insured by the Orange County Auto Club.

WORMY APPLE CASE APPEAL PERFECTED

After judgment of a fine of $50 had been pronounced in justice court against his client, Joe Thurston, who was found guilty of a charge of selling apples, more than ten per cent of which were wormy, Attorney M. B. Wellington today had his appeal of the case perfected.

An appeal bond of $100 was filed by Attorney Wellington.

Wellington claimed the section of the act under which Thurston was prosecuted to be unconstitutional, contending that it was discriminatory in that it permitted the sale of apples in bad condition to manufacturers of cider and other by-products of apples.

The complaint against Thurston, who grows fruit on a ranch at the mouth of Aliso canyon, was sworn to by E. H. Paddock, deputy county horticultural commissioner.

CHARGES SON-IN-LAW STRUCK HIM IN ROW

Charged with battery by his father-in-law, J. T. Crowell, F. J. Gist today entered a plea of not guilty in justice court and his trial was set for December 4 at 10 o'clock. At the office of the district attorney Crowell was said to have stated that Gist became angered when Crowell raised the rent on a house he was occupying from $3 per month to $9 per month. Gist struck Crowell, the latter told Deputy District Attorney Alex P. Nelson.

FULLERTON MUST WHIP REDLANDS TO PLAY L. B.

New Tentative Schedule Puts Citrus League Champs Ahead of Beach Team

According to a new tentative schedule, which was known of here today, the Fullerton Union high school football team, winner of the Orange League championship, must meet, and defeat, Redlands High, holder of the title in the Citrus Belt League, before it can meet Long Beach, champion of the City and County League.

It was said that if play is held according to schedule, Fullerton will meet Redlands Saturday. The winner of that game will battle the Long Beach aggregation on December 13, for the Southern California prep school championship.

According to word from Los Angeles, when the playoff schedule was first arranged, Redlands High, winners of the Citrus League title, were given one date to meet another team for the championship.

Calling attention to the fact that the Citrus League would not finish its schedule by November 22 and therefore was eliminated from the tourney, a protest was lodged with the California Interscholastic Federation. The rules called for all schedules to be completed by November 22, it was claimed.

It was pointed out, however, that such action would be unfair and inasmuch as Santa Barbara was squeezed into the play-off, a southern league winner certainly had a chance to mingle in the finals.

JULIAN ELTINGE AT LONG BEACH

Another scoop for the Hoyt theatre, Long Beach. Some time ago Manager Hoyt presented Guy Bates Post in "The Masquerader" at his beautiful new theatre on the Pike, giving the theatre going folk of Los Angeles the new sensation of having to leave their own home town to witness this wonderful production, and now he has booked Julian Eltinge, the world's most famous female impersonator, for the only California showing prior to a three-year trip around the world. Under his own management, Julian Eltinge presents his Revue of Nineteen-Nineteen.

This famous female impersonator has surrounded himself with a galaxy of clever vaudeville stars and is presenting the same show that he will take on his trip around the world.

Owing to the fact that Mr. Eltinge does not play in Los Angeles, Friday afternoon and evening, December 5th will be the only chance that Santa Ana theatre goers will have to see Julian Eltinge and his Revue of 1919.

Manager Hoyt has made special arrangements to take care of the Santa Ana patrons and prompt attention will be given mail and telephone orders, the theatre's number is Home 77.

DENY RESPONSIBILITY FOR SINKING VESSELS

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The German government note to the peace conference denies that Germany was responsible for sinking the German fleet in Scapa Flow, Berlin dispatches said.

"The German government must repudiate as without just ground any obligation to perform the demands made in the Allied note on the Scapa Flow sinking," the dispatches said the Germans declared. Admiral Reuter, the dispatch has quoted the German note as saying, did not know the armistice had ended the war when he ordered his vessels sunk. He was cut off from communication with his government, it was pointed out. The note offers to submit the matter to arbitration by the Hague tribunal, leaving it to decide whether the German government is responsible and if so what damages are due to Germany's enemies.

LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 2.—"Gavvy" Cravath, Mrs. Cravath and Miss Kathryn Cravath motored up to Bakersfield to spend Thanksgiving with "Gavvy's" parents. Mrs. Cravath's mother, Mrs. Williams, came up from San Diego to stay with the youngest member of the family, "Bobby" Cravath, who is spending the vacation at home in Laguna.

Mrs. Frost and Miss Peak have purchased the Cravath small cottage on the cliffs, opposite the Cravath home. They are from the Krotona Institute of Theosophy and it is rumored that they will erect a Greek theater here shortly.

Henri De Kruijff was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco J. Manrique Thanksgiving day at their water-front cottage on the Heights.

Maurice Isch and Leslie Denning were in Los Angeles over the holiday. Miss Mary Watrous entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans and Miss Priscilla Evans at dinner Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jahraus had a few friends in to an informal "fireplace party" Thursday evening. A rousing fire welcomed the guests and was welcomed by them, after the cold wind which was blowing. Pop-corn and apples were served during the evening and several pleasant hours were spent in front of the fire.

A well patronized turkey dinner was served by Mr. Brommer at the White House restaurant, Thanksgiving.

Many people motored down for the day Thursday and most of them visited the art gallery, which was open as usual for the afternoon.

Mr. Payne sold a large picture the past week. Also a large canvas by Miss Anna Hills was sold at the gallery. It is a very lovely autumn scene, a field of corn in the foreground, with the Laguna hills behind, on top of which is seen the well-known "First grove" of eucalyptus trees, up to which nearly every visitor to Laguna climbs to see the view.

There are to be several very much worth while exhibitions of pictures, prints and etchings at the Exposition Park galleries in Los Angeles during December.

Mrs. D. D. Whitten went to Los Angeles Friday to visit her sister, Miss Grace George, who is spending the winter in town, working on a book which will soon be added to her other publications.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Tanberg spent Friday in Santa Ana on business.

A large party of Huntington Beach high school students, chaperoned by Mrs. Talbert, spent Friday in Laguna.

Mr. Fisher, who has a ranch some four miles up Laguna canyon, reports a light flurry of snow, which lasted only a few minutes.

Two parties of campers braved the threatening weather and motored down to Laguna and pitched camp on the sands in front of the marine laboratory, Thanksgiving Day, and expect to stay over several days.

Joe Handy and family came down Friday to bring Mrs. Handy's mother, Mrs. Johnson, and her son back to Laguna. They have been up on a visit to Villa Park and Anaheim for two weeks.

REASON FOR STYLES

Elizabeth Woodbridge, in a delicious little book called "Days Out,"
gives an excuse for styles. She says:
"What we see constantly we cease to see vividly. The faces we notice least are those we know—and perhaps really love—best; our eyes are faded by following the familiar lines.
The same is true of pure color. Water and sky are beautiful; you may suppose you are duly appreciative of them; but lie on the deck of a cat-
boat and note how the colors flare
out upon your vision. Or stay indoors for a few weeks and then go out. You will be blinded by the glory of the world."

And fashion she says, has given us
a way of seeing faces from new angles. The new hat is the thing.

"We see the familiar face as though it were a stranger's, and we find in it things we have never noticed. The funny pinch in the brim
may bring out all its gaiety, the long,
soft droop may accentuate its pathos
the jaunty upfing of the side may give it a sudden brave note."

"This is why the dress reforms
that presuppose one type and one
only of dress or hat are unsuccessful.
Life without novelty would be dull
indeed."

THE PRINCE'S VISIT

Now that the "smoke" of the visit of the Prince of Wales has cleared away, The Register is impelled to break what may be termed the princely silence that has fallen in our midst since the potential King sailed
for home.

It would not have occurred to the average American that an unassuming
young fellow who has not yet
made his mark in the world could,
by spending a few days in the eastern section of the United States, effect any noticeable change in the attitude of two great countries toward each other. Yet Prince Edward seems to have done this very thing.

Precisely what Americans expected of a prince, it is hard to say. At any rate, there was an obvious sense of relief when it was observed that this particular prince was not given to wearing a crown or other royal jewelry, and did not sport a monocle,
and never said "My word!" or "Don't you know!" and put on no airs whatever, but was simply a modest, pinkcheeked, well-mannered lad, with a very pleasant personality and a gift
for saying and doing the right thing.
Those who met him liked him, and the crowds who saw him in Washington, New York and elsewhere took
to him instantly, with a frank and rather unexpected outpouring of friendliness. This was especially noticeable in New York.

There have been things happening
lately of a sort to ruffle the fine wartime relations of Great Britain and the United States. There are still people in this country who think it their patriotic duty to hate England, and there are many Englishmen who have an irritating, top-lofty attitude toward America. Too much attention, perhaps, has been paid to these trouble-makers. A little contact with this fine young Englishman sweeps away a lot of misconception and prejudice, and gives two nations that ought to be,
and must be, friends, a good chance
to show their friendship.

GERMANS MUST LEARN CITIZENSHIP

One of the lessons which the Germans must learn before they can really achieve a position of respect
and power in the world is self-government. They have been a docile crowd of servants obedient to their rulers for so long that they are at a loss now that governmental responsibility is thrown upon them as citizens. This fact is made strikingly apparent in recent accounts of German attempts at reconstruction.

Committing the government of a nation to the hands of a hereditary ruler seems to work beautifully as long as the ruler is wise, honest, good
and ambitious only to promote justice and honor in his own country and in the world. But that combination of qualities seems to be rare, indeed,
in divine-right monarchs with absolute power. For a long time the Germans, while so ruled, seemed to be the most efficient and prosperous of nations. Then the greed and ambition of their masters plunged them into a disastrous war and left them stranded with little ability for self-

government or political initiative, or even liking for the task.

They cannot get really on their feet, develop a true national self-respect and attain an honorable place
in the society of nations until they have learned the science of self-government from the very beginning and built up an individual and public consciousness which can be relied upon
in a crisis to think straight and fast
and so to reach just and wise decisions.

PUBLIC WANTS ACTION

The American public is now doing
some serious thinking on the peace treaty and the predicament in which its present plight leaves the United States and the world, a plight brought about by the tie-up in the Senate.

There will be no peace until that treaty is disposed of finally, one way or the other. And until it is disposed of rightly, there will be no reconstruction of life and work and business in this country or Europe.

The uncertainty now existing as to many vital matters of peace-making is the biggest factor in fomenting industrial discontent and encouraging
the organized forces of disorder.

The Senate will convene next month with a mandate from the American people to buckle down to work, stop orating and squabbling,
and agree on a ratification which,
while preserving American rights,
will also preserve American honor
and offer some hope of realizing the purposes for which America fought
the war. The people want action.

"The waste heat from an automobile engine would keep a house
warm," says a motor expert. Now,
there's an idea—if this coal strike
continues, just run the little old car
into the house and start the engine.

Any intelligent citizen could name
a man who would make a better
President than anybody else in the country. The only trouble is that so few of them would name the same man.

There is going to be a demand for "a business man for President." And it will probably be just about as effective as most demands are when they come into collision with politics.

Private rights are all right in normal times, but in emergency there's always the right of eminent domain
to fall back on—whether it's railroads or coal mines or anything else.

Booms Multiplying

—Pasadena Star-News—
The number of men being mentioned prominently for the Presidential nomination by one or the other of the great political parties is greater than in any other pre-election period in the last quarter of a century. It is recognized, by both the leading political party organizations, that the Presidential race is to be a free-for-all.
That is to say, the nomination of both parties is to be open, and not programmed in favor of any one candidate, right up to the hour of making the nominations.

In all states, interest is awakened in national politics. The people are beginning to think and talk politics.
They are beginning to study issues and to form opinions thereon. In a word, the premonitory symptoms of a spirited presidential campaign are
in evidence.

The people will have more direct voice next year, perhaps than ever before, in deciding who shall be nominated for the presidency. In a great many states presidential primaries
will be held in advance of the nominating conventions and delegates will be chosen and given the mandate of the people as to the candidate they
(the people) prefer. This should make the choice of the two great conventions fairly representative of the will of each of the great political parties.

While the Breezes Blow

The Peace Treaty as A Political Issue

(From the Iowa (Kans.) Register)

Ditpatches from Washington
seem to indicate that the Republican senators under the leadership of Mr. Lodge are willing if not indeed anxious to go to the country next year with opposition to the ratification of the peace treaty in its present form
as the main issue. The statement given out by Senator Lodge
certainly justifies this impression
for it does not indicate a disposition on his part to enter into any compromise that will materially modify the reservations
proposed by the foreign relations committee.

As a Republican newspaper the Register can not but deplore this attitude upon the part of Republican leaders.

The real issue in this country
now and the one which ought to be kept clearly before the people and right at the front until it is finally and decisively settled, is the issue of an orderly government as against the revolutionary radicalism which during the past few months has filled the country with strikes and riots
and all sorts of social and industrial disturbances. With a ringing declaration for the maintenance of our present form of government and for the orderly conduct of political and industrial affairs as the first plank in its platform, and with an arraigment of the Democratic party for inefficiency and gross and reckless extravagance in the expenditure of the public fund, together
with a definite pledge to correct
these evils, as all the rest of the platform, the Republican party
could sweep the country next year so thoroughly that the votes against it would virtually all be sent into the "scattering" column.

It would be an intolerable
blunder to substitute for this real issue the matter of the form of the peace treaty which ought not to be a partisan question at
all. "Partisanship" is an old saying
which ought to be made true.

We grant at once that the Democratic party has flagrantly violated this sound doctrine, but that is no reason why the Republican leaders should make the same mistake. As a matter of patriotism the real issue and not the sham one, should be kept to the front throughout the next campaign.

But even as a matter of politics, it is a serious question
whether the people will support
the position taken by the Republican leaders in the senate. The people of America are jealous of the honor of their country. They do not relish having the United States put in the attitude of a quitter and a poor sport, and it will not be very hard to convince them that that was done
when the senate refused to allow this country to carry its part of the burden involved in enforcing
the terms of peace against Germany, it helping to make the readjustments in Europe necessary to restore normal conditions there,
and in attempting to safeguard
the world against future wars.
To bear its share in all these things is just as much a duty of this country as it was after having entered the war to do its share of the fighting and pay its part of the expense.

As a Republican newspaper
which with all modesty may lay claim to have done its share in defending Republican positions
and championing Republican policies, the Register is obliged to admit that it does not look forward with any degree of pleasure
to the task of undertaking to prove to the people that the Republican senate followed a wise
and patriotic policy when it took a position that delayed the declaration of peace, that defeated the only program which is even proposed for the prevention of future wars, and that put the United States of America in the attitude of preferring the narrow walled-in path of national selfishness to the broad and open highway of unselfish service to humanity.

RICHES

O I am rich in that this day is mine,
This dainty day that delicately walks
The flowered world, stepping on freighted stalks,
Burning late incense at the poppies' shrine,
And peeping through the tresses of the vine.
And rich am I in every wind that talks.
In every crumbling cloud that lightly chalks
The scroll of blue: most rich in life's rich wine.

Dearer the gold of freshly minted star,
Or coined moon than all that misses hoard,
Dearer the pearls each morning flings afar
In glad lapse than gems in darkness stored.

Silver from streams and diamonds from the rain.

said the magistrate, frowning.

"Yer can't," replied the offender dis-

"Oh!"

"Yes, they didn't like the way the

"Benedict Bill heaved a deep sigh.

Caught on First Bounce

By S. M. Greene

In Los Angeles the police have adopted the signal system of three winks of an electric light to call a policeman. With a street flirt one wink will be enough.

The Los Angeles Times, which usually is almost somber in the absence of fun from its columns, except when John McGroarty allows his wit
to sparkle or Harry Williams slips
some refreshing humor in through his sporting column, had a real gem in its editorial comments the other day
when it remarked that the boom already growing for General Leonard Wood for the Presidential nomination was causing the other candidates to knock on Wood.

In one of the rotten divorce cases
heard every day in the Los Angeles courts, the husband was granted a divorce because his wife allowed him to kiss her only once a month. The man was a fool. To most husbands
once a month would be twelve times
a year too often to kiss such a wife.
Treat 'em rough, is the way to get
'em to warm up to you (P. S.—Mrs.
G. hasn't read this).

A band of Gypsies motored into Corona the other day, and at the suggestion of the chief of police, turned right around and motored right out again. Who would want Gypsies around anyway that were so unro-
mantic as to travel in autos?

Corona has a feeling that she has another auto race in her system that may soon come to a head. If so, the sooner she gets it out, the better.
Most towns have all they can do in promoting the human race.

Down at Calexico a colored brother named Broom celebrated his birthday with a swell turkey dinner for his family, and needless to say they made a clean sweep of it.

The Norwalk Call tells of a new resident of Downey, who came there
only two years ago from Illinois,
without much to start on, but he already owns two or three of the leading businesses of the town, much to the horror of the old residents who didn't believe there was any life left in the old town. It makes 'em sore
to see any one come in and make money where they knew it couldn't be done. But he had the advantage of not knowing that it couldn't be done.

Long Beach has too many foolish
marriages among her old folks, according to a Los Angeles divorce
judge. And an attorney down there answered that it couldn't be stopped
as long as Long Beach had her Pike
and her parks and her nice warm sand
to sit on. According to O. Henry's theory, the usually warm autumn
may have had something to do with it too. The chilly spell of a few days ago may help to put a crimp in it.
If not, Long Beach might try putting ice on the heads of all suspects, or have them stand in cold water so many hours a day, like they break
a hen from wanting to set.

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Pomona cracked a rib
the other day when he sneezed. We'd hate to think what he might do if he had to cough up a subscription.

The Glendale High School boys who smeared the South Pasadena High School buildings with paint, in the exuberance of their verandcy the other night, had to go over and meekly wash the paint all off, which will go a long way toward curing their exuberance. But what's the use?
There'll be another crop next year.

YOU CAN BUY IT FOR LESS IN SANTA ANA

A lady from Riverside, with two little grandsons, was visiting in Santa Ana. Before leaving home she wished to buy the boys some "Koveralls," and the price quoted her by the Riverside stores was $1.75 a pair. As she intended to go through Los Angeles on her way from Riverside to Santa Ana she decided to wait and buy the Koveralls in the big city, where she expected to get them at a lower price. When she got to Los Angeles, however, she found the price there was $2 per pair, so she decided to wait again, until she returned home. But while she was in Santa Ana the need for the Koveralls became acute, and she decided to try the Santa Ana stores. And lo and behold she got the Koveralls here for $1.75 a pair. That was a saving, compared with Los Angeles prices, of 12 1/2 per cent. On a $60 suit that would mean a saving of $7.50. So you see it pays to buy at home.

DIRECTORS QUIT OVER PICTURE BRIDE ACTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The conference of the Japanese Association
of America yesterday voted to repudiate the action of the association's directors condemning the practice of importing picture brides.
Forthwith the fifteen directors
resigned in a body.
The representatives of thirty-six

local associations in California, Nevada, Utah and Colorado did not object
to abolishing the photograph
mating system, but differed as to steps to be taken.
It was pointed out that the problem
must be settled by an agreement between the two nations. N. Kanazaki,
secretary of the association, said
elimination of the picture bride is favored by 100 per cent of the intelligent Japanese in America.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 2.—

regular meeting Friday evening had many matters of public interest
before it for consideration, among which was the construction of a county
paved boulevard across the Santa Ana bottoms to the Fairview mesa. This road with others about this district was favored. The negotiations with the road commission relative to the coast boulevard was referred to the City Council for action. The Christmas tree and entertainment for the entire community is well under way,
Ralph C. Turner having the matter in charge. The question of furnishing a warehouse for the Beach Broom
Co. was referred to a committee.

The decided to hold a poultry show
in January and Kyle Howard, E. C.
Knight and Ed. Manning were appointed a committee to act with the poultry association in perfecting plans and arranging for the show. The question of holding a fair for 1920 was favored and the announcement of a committee to have charge of the same will be given later. This being the officers, L. A. Copeland, E. E. French,

and F. H. McElfresh were nominated
for president; F. E. Wilson, R. H. Chapman,

With resolutions passed by the directors
for turning the Santa Ana hospital over to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce free of debt, a committee
of stockholders of the hospital
association today is working along lines it is hoped will bring about that result. The committee is composed of Drs. J. I. Clark, Willella Waffle
and J. M. Burlew. They are working among the stockholders and friends
to raise the necessary money to accept the offer of stockholders to dispose of their stock at 70 cents on the dollar.
The sum of $12,000 is yet
needed to complete the amount.

Many of the stockholders have agreed to give their stock outright,
thus reducing the amount of cash needed. There are others who have stock who cannot afford to do this and effort is being made to raise the money among friends of the institutions and doctors. A number of friends already have agreed to give cash.

The impression seems to be out that the association is trying to unload
a "white elephant." According to officers this is not the case, for dividends have been paid and enlargements made from earnings. Furthermore,
if the equipment is turned over to the Chamber of Commerce free of debt, it will be the nucleus around
which a larger and better institution
can be secured for the city, under the endowment plan. Earnings of the hospital can be used in developing and supplying every facility, instead
of having to go into dividends.

The purpose of the stockholders
who have agreed to sell their stock
at 70 cents on the dollar, if the option
is exercised by the first of January,
is to offer the opportunity for Santa Ana to build up an endowed hospital that will give the city the character of institution it should have and in keeping with its progress.

It is asserted that a modern building,
with the latest approved equipment,
would prove a valuable asset
to the city and would result in inducing
location here by people who are seeking homes in places where the best facilities may be had in case of sickness.

Supporters of the endowment plan
believe that a high grade hospital is just as valuable to the growth of the city as a first class hotel. In order to make the offer of the stockholders
available it will be necessary to rush
the campaign of finance raising, for there is less than a month in which to secure the required balance of $12,000.

It is believed there are many people
in Santa Ana who will help in the financing by subscribing to the fund,
and as the time is short, those who feel that they would like to assist in developing a fine plant here should get in touch with members of the committee at once.

Subscriptions will be donations and
the only returns the donors may expect
is the self-satisfaction that may be derived by knowledge that they have contributed to an institution operated solely for the purpose of offering suffering humanity all the facilities known to science for alleviation
of their pains.

NEWPORT PETITION TO ANNEX GRANTED

A petition presented by Clyde Bishop,
city attorney of Newport Beach,
asking the annexation of a parcel of land 85 by 100 feet in size and located about a quarter of a mile west of the old glass factory at the beach city,
was granted today by the board of supervisors. The city of Newport Beach needs the property for the purpose
of installing a septic tank in connection with a sewer system being built. Annexation
proceedings were instituted because of the law
which prohibits the use of money derived from taxation on property in incorporated cities to improve property not located in the city limits.

LONG PIOUS FACE NOT SYMBOLIC OF PIETY

Lumberjack Evangelist Makes Pointed Remarks In Sermon Last Night

"Some people put on a long face, go to church and think they are pious. No, that is not being pious—that is being pickled, and the Lord never put up any pickles. The Bible says he preserved his saints, and there is a difference between pickles and preserves."

This is an epigram from Dave Hill, the "Lumberjack Evangelist" of Ohio, who is conducting a series of revival meetings at Zion's Evangelical church, Main and Tenth streets, and one of the points in his sermon last night. Meetings are held each evening at 7:30, the sermons being in English, and they are being largely attended. "Tree Toad Religion" is the subject for tonight. Following are a few brief extracts from Evangelist Hill's discourse last night:

"I believe that what the Bible says, God says, and if what the Bible says is not what God says, then God never said anything to this old world."

"Some people look as if they enjoyed their religion about like they would enjoy the toothache. If I had a brand of religion that hurt me like that I would discard it and get another brand."

"Some people ask, can a man smoke or chew tobacco and be a Christian? Well, he might use tobacco and think he was a Christian, but he would smell like the devil. I never preach on tobacco from a religious standpoint but always from a sanitary standpoint."

"God's mercy never does away with His justice, and you will never get one thing that His mercy offers you until you do what His justice demands of you."

"You will never get right with God until you take back that thing that you borrowed when folks were not looking at you."

"A religion that does not make a man pay his debts and be honest in all his dealings, never came from God, and has not His stamp upon it."

"God created the sinner and rebelled, and became a devil, and God created a man in His own image but he rebelled and became a sinner, so God is not responsible for the Devil being a devil, or for a sinner being a sinner."

SOUTHLAND INDIANS WILL ASK FOR HELP

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 1.—A more adequate supply of water, better facilities for farming their land, improved housing conditions and assistance in the care of their aged and sick are the demands that will be sent to the Department of the Interior as a result of a conference of Southern California Indians held here today at the home of Jonathan Tibbitts, head of the Southern California Pioneer Society.

Julio Norte a highly educated Indian from Banning is the president of an organization which the Indians formed for the purpose of bettering their condition. He presided over the meeting today which was attended by Indians from eight reservations.

BOARD ASKED TO FIX AIR FREIGHT RATES

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 2.—For the first time, the Railroad Commission is to be asked to establish rates for aerial freight transportation, according to a statement Commissioner of Corporations Bellows has issued.

Bellows has authorized the Aerial Transport of Stockton to sell 400 shares of capital stock at par of $100 on provision that it obtains before February 1, 1920, the sum of $11,000. It proposes to carry passengers and freight.

A permit will be required to obtain from the railroad commission approval of the rates to be fixed and charged.

POLICE ORGANIZE TO COMBAT CRIME WAVE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 2.—A crime wave, which the police attribute to the "high cost of dope," has aroused authorities here.

Chief of Police Home today was preparing a campaign to stop the wave, which has consisted of everything from yesterday's bank robbery to minor holdups. A squad of sixty police automobiles and motorcycles was organized this morning to patrol all parts of the city night and day.

Police consider the crime wave due to the fact that cocaine, heroin, morphine and Mexican marihuana are selling at unheard-of prices and drug addicts, unable to buy narcotics with what they can secure by legitimate means are resorting to an orgy of crime.

Damon and Pythias to Be Produced By Tustin Folks

Grand Chancellor to Be the Guest of Pythians on Thursday Night

C. W. Guerin, Grand Chancellor, state of California, order Knights of Pythias, will be the guest of honor at the production of "Damon and Pythias" to be given by Tustin Lodge No. 55 at the school auditorium, Tustin, Thursday evening, December 4.

This promises to be one of the greatest local dramatic productions of the season.

The cast of fifty people has taken on all the proficiency of professionals, it is stated.

Henry G. Miller, who portrays the part of Pythias, has a most enviable reputation for his wonderful interpretation of this great character and is a great favorite, not only with his Pythian brethren but with the local community as well.

Miss Thelma Nordstrom, who plays opposite Mr. Miller, assuming the character of Calanthe, will be a great surprise to her many friends in the artistic manner in which she essays this most difficult role.

From all indications the school auditorium will be taxed to its capacity. Tickets are on sale at Rowley's and the White Cross Drug Store.

BARREN WASTE OF YEARS AGO NOW VALUABLE

History of Ford Holdings Is Repetition of Many Others In the County

In the early days of this section, back when Orange county was a portion of Los Angeles county, much of what is now Orange county, was considered a barren, sandy waste, mostly waste, and it was difficult for the early settlers to even give land away, says the Anaheim Herald. Nobody would take the land and guarantee to pay the taxes on it.

In those early days, Geo. W. Ford, a prominent and well known resident of Santa Ana, picked up several hundred acres of the then barren and sandy waste land, principally waste, at the sum of $2 an acre, and forgot it, as the vernacular of the street goes.

Ford sold a large portion of his holdings in after years as the merits of the land became better understood and clung to a ranch of 226 acres between Anaheim and Santa Ana, at the spot on the state highway conspicuously marked by a long row of umbrella trees.

As an evidence of what Orange county lands have developed into since those early days it might be cited that last year Ford leased 21½ acres to vegetable growers at $30 per acre, being a figure fifteen times greater for the use of the land one year than was paid for a guaranteed deed thirty-five years ago.

But that is not all. The growers from that 21½ acres have sold $3000 worth of potatoes and have $4000 worth in storage, and Mr. Ford has leased them 100 acres for next year at $30 an acre.

On 100 acres of this ranch this year Mr. Ford grew corn and took off an average of 100 bushels to the acre and California never claimed to be much at growing corn.

This little recital will convey some idea of what development has done for Orange county lands in a few short years.

And all this without saying a word about the sugar beet, the lima bean, the English walnut and the valencia orange.

MAXWELL MODEL 1920 CHASSIS IS COMING

G. H. Christian has been successful in making arrangements with the Maxwell Motor Company through Harold L. Arnold, Maxwell distributor, Los Angeles, to show the Exhibition Model 1920 Maxwell Chassis in Santa Ana.

The famous chassis will be on display in the showroom at the corner of Fourth and French streets, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This exhibition chassis is an exact duplicate of the model that will be shown at the New York and Chicago National Automobile Shows in January, and Christian states that the Maxwell Motor Company has tacitly paid a compliment to Santa Ana in permitting this exhibition model Maxwell to be shown here in advance of the New York Show.

"The famous chassis has proven to be a remarkable attraction in the cities where it has been displayed, and it has been viewed by thousands of interested motor car owners and drivers," says Christian. "So great has been the demand for this chassis for display purposes that Maxwell dealers throughout the country have booked the chassis for several months in advance."

Woman 80 Years Old

Says she owes her wonderful health to Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.

Wooster, O. — "The grippe left me in a weakened, run-down condition. Doctors had given me their best tonics without effect. As I have depended on Vinol to build me up every spring for the past nine years with such good results, I tried it. My appetite improved, my strength came back so I am not only taking care of my household duties, but direct the management of two large farms. I tell all my friends to use Vinol when they need strength." — Mrs. MARTHA SICKLES.

Women who are run-down, nervous, lack energy and working strength should take Vinol as it contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptides, Iron and Hypophosphites, the very elements needed to restore a lost appetite, enrich the blood and create strength. ROWLEY DRUG CO. AND DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

SEES NO CHANGE IN ATTITUDE OF JAPANESE PLAN FOR LIGHT ON COURTHOUSE PROGRESSING

Returned Missionary, Living Here, Watching Korean Affairs Closely Chas. Kaufmann, Local Manufacturer, Offers to Donate the Spotlights

Probably no American in Southern California is watching the situation in Korea any more keenly than is Rev. A. G. Welton of 263 Wright street, Santa Ana, and it is his declaration that recent months have changed the attitude of Japanese in Korea to Koreans but little.

"I have just received a copy of a petition sent to the new Japanese governor general of Korea by the missionaries now in Korea," said he. "That petition is joined in by every Christian missionary organization in Korea with one exception. It asks the governor general to provide better conditions for the Koreans, for better government for them, for a government in which Koreans might have a voice. It is a plea for the Koreans."

"The information that I have received from Korea is to the effect that conditions are no better than they were when I left several months ago. The Japanese by their conduct and bearing continue in their efforts to keep the Koreans under their thumbs. Many of the Koreans are still in jail."

"It seems hard for people here to realize how terrible were the conditions during the time when the Japanese undertook and carried out a program of abuse in order to prevent Koreans from attempting organization. I doubt if I could have believed it all if I had not been there and had I not seen what I saw."

A few months ago Rev. Welton finished missionary work in Korea that lasted over a period of many years. He and his wife, who in the late nineties when she was Miss Sadie Nourse was sent from the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Ana as a missionary to Korea, are living in Santa Ana. Rev. Welton may soon write for publication in missionary and other publications, articles concerning conditions as he knew them in Korea.

WOMAN LAWYER CONDUCTS QUIZ IN SUIT HERE

Joe Skidmore on Stand In Action Brought By Mrs. Flora Justus

For the first time in many months, a woman attorney appeared in superior court here, when Gertrude M. Caldwell, of the firm of Washburn and Caldwell, of Los Angeles today examined witnesses during the trial of the action brought by Flora A. Justus and Earl W. Kissinger against Joe Skidmore and Catherine A. Brooks, proprietors of the Laguna Beach Water Company.

Skidmore is being sued for $10,000 damages as a result of alleged violations of an agreement under which he and Mrs. Brooks were to supply water to the Arch Beach Tavern, of which Flora Justus is manager. When the trial of the action was resumed before Superior Judge Williams today Skidmore went on the stand.

Skidmore, in response to questions put by H. J. Forgy, of the firm of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, attorneys for the defendants, testified that the arrangement under which he and Mrs. Brooks were to supply water to the hotel was merely a temporary one. It was agreed, Skidmore said, that the Laguna Beach Water Company was to furnish water to the hotel until such time as Flora Justus installed a pumping plant of her own.

Testimony was given by Skidmore to the effect that invariably when he imported Flora Justus to put in the pumping plant she put him off with the assertion that he "was driving her into bankruptcy."

"Created Scene," he Says
On one occasion, Skidmore testified, Flora Justus "created a scene" when he asked her to take some action in reference to the pump and "worked on the sympathies" of Skidmore's mother, with the result that Skidmore granted the plaintiff a sixty-day extension of time, with the understanding that during that period the pump would be installed.

Mrs. Justus had alleged in her complaint that the agreement between her and Skidmore and Mrs. Brooks was to the effect that water was to be supplied the hotel in consideration of Mrs. Justus maintaining the water system leading to the hotel. The plaintiff alleged that on several occasions Skidmore diverted water from the system to his own use, thus shutting off the hotel's supply. Guests had to be turned away several times as a result of the hotel being without water, the plaintiff claimed.

Witnesses who testified yesterday were Mrs. Justus, C. S. Goldsborough, J. F. Bruce, J. W. Starkweather, and Carl Benson. Depositions by Frances King and Sylvia E. Sanders, employees at the Arch Beach Tavern; Frances Nadine Van Allen, a guest at the hotel; C. A. Saint, real estate dealer, were introduced in evidence.

LEGION POST, ORANGE READY TO FIGHT REDS

The American Legion Post at Orange has gone on record by the adoption of resolutions approving the action of the American Legion in Los Angeles in suppressing the "reds" and obligating the membership to respond to a call should assistance be needed in this country in halting a like situation. The resolutions passed by the Post follow:

Whereas, it is the purpose of the American Legion, as set forth in its constitution, to protect and defend the government of the United States, and, whereas, there is a wide-spread propaganda, the purpose of which is the undermining of the authority of that government and the substitution of some other form, and

Whereas, this propaganda is evidenced in frequent acts of violence on the part of anarchists known as I. W. W., Bolsheviks and other indescribable aliens resident in this country, and in defiance of the authority of the American government.

Be it resolved, that the members of the Orange Post, American Legion, do hereby declare that they are at all times ready to serve in the suppression of such anarchists and to counteract their propaganda, to the end that the I. W. W. and kindred disloyal organizations be stamped out in the nation, and,

Be it resolved, that Orange Post, American Legion, invites the peace officers of Orange county to call on its members for such assistance as may at any time be needed in dealing with disloyal persons, and

Be it resolved, that Orange Post heartily approves the work of the American Legion in Los Angeles and other cities in dealing with such disloyalty.

5 Dominican Sisters Born In Germany Seeking Citizenship

DECLARATIONS of intention to become citizens are on file with the county clerk today for five Dominican sisters of St. Catherine's Orphanage, 215 Palm street, Anaheim.

Their names and positions in the institution are: Annie Petronella Kniffer, teacher; Ida Katharina Gantner, sister in convent; Elizabeth Knerr, sister in convent; Barbara Cordovinus, teacher; and Anna Margret Lindemann, cook.

The applicants were all born in Germany. It was stated at the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs that approximately fifteen additional sisters at St. Catherine's Orphanage intend to file declarations shortly. Thor Christoferson, a harness maker of Garden Grove, and born in Norway, and Gustaf Olson, an automobile mechanic, of 622 North Van Ness, Santa Ana, and born in Sweden, have taken out first citizenship papers.

INDICTMENT AGAINST DR. MAYES QUASHED

Following the receipt of a telegram from East Las Vegas, New Mexico, Dr. W. C. Mayes, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, with offices in the Spurgeon building, today announced that the indictment against him charging him with grand larceny, had been dismissed. The telegram received by Dr. Mayes was from C. W. G. Ward, district attorney at East Las Vegas, and read: "Case against you is dismissed."

The indictment was returned in New Mexico on the charges of a minor, whom Dr. Mayes had attended during an illness. The minor, out of gratitude, gave Dr. Mayes certain personal property which was stored in a mountain cabin. The gift was made in the presence of a nurse. Dr. Mayes took charge of the property. Several months later, and after Dr. Mayes had come to this city, he received word of the indictment. This information came to Dr. Mayes as a complete surprise.

Several days ago Dr. Mayes received a letter from District Attorney Ward, stating that unless the minor could bring more definite charges, the case would be dismissed. The letter stated that the minor sometimes drank. It intimated that the minor based his charges on insubstantialities. The receipt of the telegram announcing that the case had been dismissed vindicates Dr. Mayes of the charge against him.

TEACHING DATA SENT TO STATE'S CAPITAL

Pursuant to instructions from the authorities at Sacramento, teachers of Santa Ana and Orange county schools have forwarded to them data setting forth among other statistics, the date of their birth, their education and the length of time they have taught. This information was asked following the coming up of the question as to whether or not the state retirement fund, drawn on to pay pensions of $500 yearly to teachers having had thirty years' service, would be large enough to take care of the demands upon it. Teachers are required to pay in $1 per month for nine months to the retirement fund. This year $460 is being paid in monthly by Orange county teachers, according to Superintendent of County Schools, R. P. Mitchell. Three teachers in this county are now drawing pensions, Mitchell said.

NOVEMBER SETS NEW MARK FOR RECORDER

Tremendous Rush of Documents Is Evidence of Realty Activity

The tremendous activity that there has been in real estate and in the leasing for oil has fairly swamped the office of Miss Justine Whitney, county recorder, with work. Never in the history of the county has there been so many documents per month brought in for recording as have been brought in during the last four or five months.

And the rush is increasing. The month of October broke all records, and the month of November with fewer days in which the office was open distanced October.

The fees taken in by Miss Whitney and turned over to the county treasurer by her during November totaled $2184.75. That is over $100 more than was taken in during October.

When the month of November of this year is compared with November of last year, a better idea of the tremendous increase brought about by the 1919 activity is noticeable. The fees for November, 1918, came to $1041.

Miss Whitney is using every possible effort to keep up with the work that has come into her office, and yet she is three weeks behind with recording. No one could have done better. The provision made for help in the office by the last legislature was figured upon the basis of the work that the office has had to do. With the work more than doubled the provision for assistance in the office seems to be entirely inadequate and it must remain so until the legislature meets again in 1921, unless some way not yet found is discovered for providing the office with additional funds. The fees received by the office go to the county and cannot be drawn upon for the additional expenses of keeping up the office that might be incurred through unforeseen rushes of work.

BUT FEW INQUIRE AS TO TEACHERS' EXAMS

Only three or four persons have inquired of Superintendent of County Schools R. P. Mitchell regarding the probable date of this year's teachers' examinations, he stated today. The date will probably be decided upon Saturday, at a meeting of the county board of education. The examinations will continue for one week and it is planned to hold them during the holidays.

The schools in the county will close on Monday, December 15, while the Santa Ana schools will close on December 12, Mitchell said. Most of the schools will resume sessions on Monday, December 29.

Definite Paving Program Each Year Advocated

COUNCIL SHOULD OUTLINE PLANS IN ADVANCE SAYS HOY

Committee to Investigate Fire Hall Situation; News of Trustee Meeting

A definite paving program each year, outlined in advance so there may be no delays at the last minute because some parts of the work are not ready, is in prospect for Santa Ana, with the city council taking the initiative in laying out needed improvements. If adopted, this plan would supersede the present lack of system, in which the initiative for street improvements is taken by property owners on the various streets or by private paving contractors.

The defects of the present method of procedure and the proposed remedy were brought before the city council last night at its regular meeting by W. W. Hoy, street superintendent and city engineer, and although no extensive discussion was had, some members of the council indicated their approval of the proposal, and some official action to this end may be looked forward to in the near future.

"It seems to me we have the cart before the horse," said Hoy in broaching his proposal. "If a street needs paving, the council sits back and lets the property owners or private paving contractors take the initiative in getting the work done. But supposing the majority are in favor of paving, then the sewer, gas and water pipes have to be laid on the street, which takes time. The ditches have to be filled in and left for several weeks or months to settle, and then, like as not, winter is upon us and no paving can be done for months on account of the rains, with the street probably impassable during all that time."

Should Take Initiative
"I feel that the council should take the initiative in planning needed street improvements, and determine each year just what streets should be paved during the coming year. Immediately the grade could be established, gas, water and sewer pipes laid, the filled-in ditches would have time to settle, and then, in the spring or early summer, when the weather is right and labor is plentiful, the pavement could be laid without loss of time and without keeping the street closed for several months needlessly. As examples of the old method, just look at East Fifth street, which has been closed for several months, and at Grand avenue, where the paving is delayed by new sewer ditches here in the middle of winter."

"While I believe the council should have a definite paving program each year, such a system would not prevent the laying of pavement on streets other than those outlined, if the property owners want their street paved, but it would give us a definite amount of work to do each year, and this would be outlined in advance with more satisfaction, I believe, to all concerned."

Garbage and Trash Collected By City First Time Today

SANTA ANA today is engaged in the garbage collection business, entering upon a new field of municipal activity. With a "sparking gray" truck and trailer, Sanitary Inspector W. W. Chandler this morning started his crew of operators to work in gathering up the garbage and trash which heretofore had been done under private contract. O. J. Woodford is the truck driver and Paul Wheeler is his helper.

The sanitary department will be responsible for picking up the garbage and trash, and there probably will be some little confusion the balance of this week until the new men get used to the routes and it is known just how much can be done each day.

Paper trash in the business district will be picked up Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by the street department. In the residential districts trash pickups will be made as they have in the past, so far as days of pickup are concerned. The garbage trucks will pick up tin cans as garbage is gathered.

PASS BOUQUETS COMPLEMENTING RALPH FULLER

Believing in passing "bouquets" in life instead of at the pier, a number of Orange county friends of Ralph Fuller of Orange last night gathered at the Oyster Leaf cafe in Anaheim for a 6:30 dinner in compliment to him and in honor of his birthday. Fuller is popular in Orange and El Modena, his home centers, and in the county, and his Orange friends conceived the plan of inviting a few of his friends to join in a surprise dinner. Seventeen were present.

Recognition of his attributes as a pacifier, community worker, dispenser of good cheer among the sick and generous and self-sacrificing spirit in behalf of humanity was the purpose of the gathering.

With W. F. Scott as toastmaster, everyone present spoke of their personal attachment for Fuller and the fine qualities he possesses that have endeared him to them. They were eulogies worthily bestowed. Following the delicious repast and the complimentary addresses, a suggestion from J. W. Duckworth that a little club should be organized for the purpose of holding similar meetings once a month in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of one or more members of such a club whose birthdays should fall within one month, met with a hearty reception. Adjournment was taken to the club rooms of the Anaheim Club, and here the organization of a club to be known as the Anniversary Club of Orange County was organized, the membership to be limited to fifty and a waiting list maintained if the demand for admittance justifies it. The purpose is purely one of sociability and to create a personal interest among the members, one for the other.

SEPARATE PLAN FOR LIBRARY IS TOLD BY MRS. HARVEY

Brea Woman Writes Article For Register on Movement Now Under Way

After having gone thoroughly into both the contract system and the separate system, either of which may be followed in the establishment of a free county library, the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association of Orange county decided in favor of the separate library plan, according to Mrs. Charles Harvey, of Brea, correspondence secretary and chairman of the library committee.

Mrs. Harvey has prepared an article for the Register on the movement to establish a free library service. On December 9 the board of supervisors is scheduled to take action with reference to starting this service. Mrs. Harvey's article follows:

"Editor Register: I wonder if I might correct some mis-statements regarding the county library through your widely read columns."

"The Congress of Mothers and P. T. A. of Orange County decided to establish some form of county free library, to give service to the thousands of people outside of already established library districts."

"We realized the importance of this move and went about it in a business-like way. We invited speakers here from other counties and heard about both the separate library system and the contract plan. We also wrote to counties that are doing away with their contract plan and got their reasons for changing over to the separate system. Their reasons were all very good ones and their advice to us was not to try it."

"After investigating both systems thoroughly we decided to ask for the separate system, which we have already done with the consent of several of Orange county's largest taxpayers."

3 Cents on $100
"We have asked the supervisors to levy a tax of 3 cents on the hundred dollars and not 3 cents on the dollar, as was stated in your paper on November 26. You who are paying taxes on property not already taxed for library purposes, (no one can be charged two library taxes on the same property) get out your last year's tax receipt if your assessed valuation was $3000. Your library tax would be 90 cents, or less than the price of one good book or magazine a year, and you will have access to as many books as one could possibly use."

"There is no reason why we should not have library service by 1921. Orange county cannot in any way be compared with Shasta, San Luis Obispo, or any other county, for that matter. No doubt they have not the good roads, the wonderful walnut, lemon and orange groves, nor the oil fields that Orange county has. We are sorry for those counties; they perhaps have a very good reason for not getting started, but their reasons will not hold good in Orange county."

"Some people get the idea that a

Episcopal Church Plans To Extend Seamen's Institute Work Over Country

Hundred Thousand Dollars May Be Spent at Los Angeles Harbor In Honor of Merchant Marine Men

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Our merchant seaman who transported American troops, food, and ammunition to France, braving the lurking danger of U-boats, have gone practically unnoticed and unsung. They have received no chevrons of war service, no distinguishing mark for wounds received, no congressional medals for bravery. The Episcopal Church, through its Nation-Wide Campaign to expand all phases of its domestic and foreign activities, proposes to give these seamen a recognition that will last for all time. It is to be done through the Seaman's Church Institute of America, a social service work of the church.

At the Seaman's Church Institute of New York, a thirteen-story building on the waterfront, last year 219,872 lodgings were provided for seafaring men; 552,720 meals were served; and $727,356.47 was deposited in the Seaman's wages department by 5,163 sailors.

The institute has voted to participate in the Episcopal nation-wide campaign to raise in excess of $62,000,000 for religious, educational, hospital and social service work.

In its survey of needs the institute asks for $1,210,000. Of this, $1,000,000 is wanted for new buildings. Double that amount is needed really and it is expected that the cities where new institutes are to be opened will raise another $1,000,000.

A preliminary survey of the ports in the United States has been made by the Rev. George W. Davenport, executive secretary of the Seaman's Church Institute of America, and by the Rev. Archibald R. Mansfield, superintendent of the Seaman's Church Institute of New York. Their report asks for $400,000 for a Seaman's Church Institute in Seattle; $100,000 for San Pedro, the port of Los Angeles; $400,000 for New Orleans; $250,000 for Norfolk, Philadelphia needs $400,000 for an institute; Cleveland, $200,000; San Francisco, $225,000; Havana, Cuba, $100,000, and San Juan, Porto Rico, $50,000.

The survey recommends that provision of some sort should be made for seamen at Baltimore, Mobile, San Diego, Portland, Me., and Portland, Ore., Jacksonville, Tacoma, Boston, Chicago and South Chicago, Gary, Ind., Charleston, Savannah and further work in Honolulu.

The work done at these Seaman's Institutes is not rescue work. It is social service work primarily, with educational and religious advantages for those who wish to avail themselves of such opportunities.

The New York institute maintains a navigation and marine engineering school, headed by Captain Robert Huntington, which furnishes instruction for seamen who aspire to become ship's officers. Part of the roof of the building is built like a ship's bridge and there the students are instructed in "taking the sun" to determine time, latitude and longitude. The work of the school was greatly amplified after the United States entered the war. The school has had a total of more than 2,500 enrollments.

CHAS. SPICER TO HAVE LOCATION OCCUPIED BY MILES, LUTZ

Important Change In Business House to Be Made June 1, 1920

A modern brick building at the southeast corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets will result from a lease transaction just closed by which Charles Spicer and Co. will come into possession of the corner on the first of June next year. The structure will be erected by Fred Rohrs, who bought the corner about two years ago. The rooms are now occupied by the Miles Shoe Store and the Lutz tailor shop.

Realizing the need of more room to take care of the expanding dry goods business, Spicer had been negotiating for the corner for a year or two and the lease transaction has just been consummated. When the present tenants vacate at the expiration of their leases, the old building, which has been standing on the property for twenty-five years, will be razed and a modern one story structure reared in its stead. The base construction will be put in with a view to carrying other stories, and it may be that a second story will be decided on before the construction work is started or completed.

Tentative plans for the new building have been prepared. The plans provide for a room 44x100 feet with a basement 40x40 for a stock room. A 20 foot recess, with an arcade effect, will feature the front, with the front designed to make it one of the most modern. Plate glass windows, with marble base, with old ivory finish, will make the front a most attractive one. There will be two entrances.

Offices and Display Space
The front and interior will be designed to display the stock of goods carried to the best advantage. A mezzanine floor will provide room for offices and also selling and display space.

It is expected that the building improvements will be completed and be ready for occupancy by the middle of August. The Miles Shoe Company already has secured a site public. It is understood that the Lutz tailoring shop has not as yet located.

Chas. Spicer, who is the sole owner of the business conducted under the name of Chas. Spicer & Co., entered his present business on East Fourth street five years ago, and his patronage has developed to the point where more room is imperative. The new quarters will make it possible for him to enlarge his stock and to display it to better advantage. His greatest enlargement in stock will be in the ready to wear department in which it will be his purpose to maintain a wide range of the latest and most modish patterns.

The same policy of good merchandise and fair prices that have brought him the success he has attained in his present location will prevail in the new and handsome room he is to occupy next August.

Savants From East Will Address Teachers During Institute December 16-17

PROFESSORS from big eastern universities and Will C. P. Mitchell. This year's institute will be of four days' duration, the third and fourth days' sessions being held in Los Angeles, on December 18 and 19.

The Anaheim sessions will begin on Tuesday, December 16, at 9:30, in the high school auditorium. Following the invocation, a brief musical program and roll call an address on "Human Aims and Interests" is to be delivered by Professor Frank E. Thompson, of the University of Colorado.

night to investigate the fire hall situation, following receipt of a communication from the Fireman's Co-operative Association, owners of the present fire hall on North Sycamore St. The communication, signed by Earl G. Glenn, secretary, stated that the rent of the fire hall would be $75 after January 1, 1920, and that if the city desires to purchase the property by January, 1920, it may do so for a price of $12,000, but that if the city declines to buy, the lot and building will then be placed on the open market. Trustees Dale and Tubbs were appointed on the committee, to file a recommendation as to what action should be taken, whether to rent or buy the present fire hall, or whether to wreck the city jail on Sycamore street opposite the Register office and replace it with a modern fire proof hall of brick or concrete.

Municipal Sewer Plans
Plans for sewer extensions and for a city outfall to the ocean were discussed again last night informally but no action was taken. One of the pressing needs is a sewer line from the east part of town to accommodate refuse water from the city cannery and other present and future industrial plants. It such a line is built soon, the capacity of the Packing Corporation's cannery will be doubled before another season, it is indicated. Water Superintendent Wray's plan is for a large enough line for possible future needs from the east part of town to run southwestward and empty into the big sewer main on Edinger street. Trustee Chapman reported that the Holly Sugar Corporation is willing to let the city use its outfall to the ocean for one year on the same basis as for the past seven years, and other conferences will be had soon with sugar company officials for agreement as to details and official action.

City May Gather Rubbish
Having just entered today upon a plan whereby the city gathers garbage and delivers it to the buyer at the city limits, plans were also discussed last night for municipal collection and disposal of all rubbish, trash, cans, vines, tree trimmings, etc., heretofore burned or hauled away by private truck concerns. A great many people dump this material into the street. Street Superintendent Hoy reported, and it would be an imposition to ask the city to haul it away free, still at the present time, the owner must pay an almost exorbitant price to have this class of stuff hauled away by private arrangement. Hoy advocated a system of municipal rubbish collection, through which property owners would be charged for hauling such waste material away, but the charge would be only enough to make the collection system self-supporting. This proposal appeared to meet with favor, and details for working it out are now being arranged.

The monthly reports of the city marshal, fire chief, recorder, building inspector and sanitary inspector were received and referred to the finance committee. The building inspector's report showed 89 building permits issued in November, aggregating $128,261, and the city recorder's report showed $187 collected during the month as fines for traffic law violations and $74 as fines for violating city ordinances.

Mayor Mitchell reported he was able to sell the $10,000 worth of the Victory Loan bonds owned by the city for $106.50 each, a premium of $6.50, and the money is now in the city treasury ready for use as needed.

Trustees Greenleaf and Dale were delegated to interview property owners on Mabury street between First and Fourth as to paying that thoroughfare in conjunction with the county.

The J. G. Robertson Electric Company was given permission to erect new electric signs at the Chas. L. Davis Garage at Sixth and Broadway, for the Crystal Cleaning Company, 207 North Main and for the Cherry Blossom at Fourth and Bash.

Curb and gutters were ordered in on Garvey street between Third and Fourth.

Street Superintendent Hoy reported he was engaged in cleaning dirt off the East Fifth street pavement, also that a part of the pavement on Grand avenue would probably be opened to traffic by the last of the week.

Adjournment was taken on next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

DELINQUENCY IN ORANGE TAXES ONLY $546.59

Thirty-two Pieces of Property Represented on the List

ORANGE, Dec. 2—Thirty-two pieces of property with taxes amounting to $546.59 went delinquent, according to completed figures at the city tax collector's office.

In view of the fact that approximately one-half of the residence property changed hands after the closing of the tax roll last July and that consequently it was hard to trace property owners, the delinquent list is considered small. Many of the delinquents are non-resident owners.

Celebrated Mother's Birthday
In honor of her mother's birthday, Mrs. W. G. Hagen entertained with a surprise party at the Hagen home, 370 North Grand. A fine turkey, and a birthday cake with candles, were the center of attraction. The house had been beautifully decorated with pink and white roses and the birthday cake was also in the same color. Many beautiful presents were given to Mrs. Hagen and the occasion will long be remembered by all. Mrs. A. A. Harris, another daughter who lives in Orange, and her family were present, and a jolly family party ensued. Three daughters were not able to be present, Mrs. Hafer, in Nebraska, Mrs. William Robinson of Stockton and Mrs. Charles Carlisle of Delano. Those present were Miss Clara Graham, W. G. Hagen and family and A. A. Harris and family, and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Graham.

Surprised Teacher
The members of the Sunday school class of Mrs. Mabel Kressen gave her a most delightful surprise. The members of the class met at the home of Mrs. Homer Davis, where the honored guest had been invited to spend the evening, and where the first course of a delicious dinner was given, which was soup. From the home of Mrs. A. D. Hoenschel, where the main dinner was served, the party went to the home of Mrs. Klahn, for desert. As a farewell remembrance to Mrs. Kressen, who is leaving soon, a beautiful cut glass dish was given with the best wishes of the following: Stella Ditchey, Helen Hoenschel, Mrs. Marie Taber Posten, Myrtle Klahn, Emma Franzen, Edna Stein and Mrs. Homer Davis.

We country people who are going to pay for this service know what we want. I wish I could take you with me through the various offices and homes of the men who will pay the larger part of the library tax, so you could have heard the good wishes of these busy men, who do not need the library for themselves, but are perfectly willing to pay taxes for anything so progressive as a separate county library.

"One man, I don't think I shall mention his name, said he wished it could be a petition for a saloon license, but since it could not, he was perfectly willing it should be a county library."

I don't consider it necessary to discuss the contract system as the people throughout the county where branches are to be established do not want it. We do not want to pay money into a city library and get secondary service."

GUARD WOMAN'S GRAVE; DOCTOR IS ARRESTED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 1.—Guards stood watch over the grave of Mrs. Marie Vegas Martinez last night, following a warning to the state board of medical examiners that an attempt to exhume and carry away her body would be made by unnamed parties.

Mrs. Martinez died last week and Dr. H. G. Palmer is held in the county jail pending investigation of charges that a criminal operation was performed on Mrs. Martinez. Early today Dr. J. G. The two relatives appear to be playing a game of hide and seek with each other, as after the uncle had been located the boy had dropped from sight.

PASADENA, Dec. 2.—Under auspices of the Edna Alter Settlement House here, Mexicans of Pasadena are planning to put on a big fiesta next month. The affair will be arranged by the Mexicans themselves and the bazaar will have on sale objects which they have produced. A Mexican officer is to furnish music.

Certified milk is 20 cents a quart and cream from 18 to 30 cents a half pint according to quality. The increase is due to a recent advance in dairy feed.

VAN NUYS, Dec. 2.—The Robert Morton Company, of Van Nuys has secured the contract to build the pipe organ for the new University of Southern California building in Los Angeles. This organ will be the largest in the state excepting the one in the auditorium in San Francisco, and will embody the newest and latest improved features of pipe organ building.

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 2.—Members of the Poplar Grange and officials of the Poplar Farm Bureau have called a meeting to be held tonight, at which time plans are to be discussed for preventing an influx of Japanese laborers or law owners to the Poplar district, west of here.

POMONA, Dec. 2.—More than a half million dollars was realized from the trees of the Walnut Growers' Association, according to approximate figures given today by Dr. J. G. Biers or land owners to the Poplar district. These record figures, says the association official, are due to the exceptionally favored location of the acreage, as well as to the high prices brought by the nuts this year.

IDYLLWILD, Dec. 2.—What is believed to have been the heaviest snowfall in an inhabited portion of California in the recent storm, is reported from this point, where the ground is covered with over ten inches of snow. Since Thanksgiving the roads to the Idyllwild camp which are in fair condition in spite of the storm, are crowded with automobiles filled with merry-makers who wish to enjoy the unusual experience of a snowball battle.

LINDSAY, Dec. 2.—Under direction of officials of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, plans are now being worked out for the formation of the Lindsay Development Company, a corporation which is to be financed by business interests here for construction of apartment houses and homes in an effort to solve the local housing problem.

REDLANDS, Dec. 2.—The high cost of living has struck the water companies providing the life giving fluid for the ranches of Southern California judging from the reports made at the annual meeting of the Yucaipa Water Company at the offices in this city. A report was made showing that the cost of operating the last season was very heavy, and that a heavier assessment than usual would be necessary to wipe it out.

Should Be Quarantined
Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as croup is about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one finds himself of a cold, the less danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.—Adv.

Large Factory to Be Put Up On 22 Acre Tract; Cars Already Sold

Of much interest and importance to the motoring fraternity of the Pacific coast is the entry of Los Angeles into the ranks of automobile manufacturing centers, with a car—the Leach Power Plus Six—already on the market, and the factory—the Leach Biltwell Motor Company—working at capacity in an effort to keep pace with orders.

Competent critics who have inspected the Leach Power Plus Six and ridden in it have pronounced it nothing short of a marvel of beauty, comfort and mechanical excellence.

Behind the car's designing and production stand some of the best known automobile men of the West. And now that the Leach Power Plus Six has passed the experimental stage, its manufacture will be undertaken in a modern, specially constructed plant on a newly-acquired tract of twenty-two acres in the heart of Los Angeles' rapidly growing industrial center.

All the financing necessary to make an actuality of the Leach Power Plus Six has been successfully consummated, and now the Martin Company, a firm of Los Angeles brokers, has undertaken to provide through the sale of the preferred stock of the Leach Biltwell Motor Company, additional capital with which to erect the company's new factory.

In announcing the offer of eight per cent cumulative preferred stock, the Martin Company directs attention to the fact that the Leach Company is favored in the possession of every essential of success in the following language:

Already Producing Cars
"It is already a success, because it is producing motor cars that are sold before they are completed, and the personnel of its organization represent the utmost in ability, and those back of it gives the enterprise a commercial character that is unequalled."

Respecting the issue which the firm offers for investment, the brokerage firm says: "This is an issue we unhesitatingly recommend to those who appreciate an opportunity of investing in a California institution with an assured future—one that has been passed upon by the California Commissioner of Corporations—where the investor can watch the progress made, and at the same time share in the profits and the satisfaction derived through contributing to the industrial advancement of the West."

The stock offered carries full voting rights and is preferred as to assets and dividends, is cumulative and non-assessable. Aside from the safeguards put into effect in the interest of investors is cited the integrity of the men who have identified themselves with the company. N. A. Leach, who is president of the company, has been prominently identified with the motoring trade both in Los Angeles and in Michigan. L. G. Martin, the vice president, was one of the organizers of the company, and is himself a large stockholder. E. P. Hughes, secretary-treasurer has had a wide and valuable business career and has an acquaintance in the automobile manufacturing industry that makes his connection with the company a valuable asset.

Production of the Leach car is under the management of R. A. Wilson, an engineer of widely recognized ability. With C. D. Swanner as his attorney, A. S. Adams will seek to quiet title to 16 acres of land located between Olive and Villa Park through a suit which was filed in Superior Court today against D. J. Martin, D. B. Martin, T. H. Rodenhurst and Wm. Starbuck.

GRAVEYARD NOT FOR SALE. IS HIS THEME

Decision of Texas Church In Oil Country Celebrated In Verses

"Not For Sale" is the title of verses written by Will Ferrell in the Texas Oil News. A copy of the verses has been sent to the Register by Verne A. Baker, of Wichita Falls, Tex., formerly of Santa Ana.

The poem was inspired by the refusal of the Marianne Baptist church, near Ranger, Texas, to lease its graveyard to different oil companies, although thousands of dollars have been offered. The churchyard itself has been leased and thousands of dollars monthly are pouring into the coffers of the little church, which formerly was making a hard fight for its very existence.

"NOT FOR SALE"

There's a churchyard at Ranger, just an acre, more or less, where the south winds kiss the headstones in a lazy, soft caress. Where the Chinaberry shelters all that sleep beneath its shade 'neath the mounds grass-grown and hidden, 'neath the new ones freshly made.

Some are there who fought for Texas in the tragic lone star war. When the swarthy Santa Ana brought his hordes from Mexico, And there some who risked the desert when the great red west was young.

And whose deeds are still unwritten, seldom told and seldom sung.

Flowers bloom and die at Ranger, in that sacred acre lot.

Jasmine and wild rose linger, lest the sleepers be forgot.

Here and there a broken bottle holding sprays of withered bloom.

Bits of colored glass and China brighten up the sombre tomb.

And, above it all a bell's peal casts its long, lean shadows down.

Like a hand outstretched for silence to the clamor of the town.

When the western dusk has fallen, springs a ring of parish light.

And the fervent pulse of Progress thrumming tireless through the night.

All around this quiet churchyard and the "meeting house" beyond is a league of blackened derricks where the monster drills respond.

To the tug of graining cables as the beams swing to and fro.

Daring, daring, ever dawning to the treasure far below.

Twice the wealth of Midas, plus lines strain to hold the flood.

And yet a prince's ransom wasted in the gloughs of earth must.

Yet the cry is "Give us leases." Every acre means a well.

Grow that graveyard over! Every acre means a well.

Grow that graveyard over! Every acre means a well.

Grow that graveyard over! Every acre means a well.

Give a Woman Silk Hosiery

and you can be perfectly sure that she will be pleased

One of Queen Elizabeth's ladies-in-waiting, way back in the sixteenth century, gave the good Queen Bess a pair of heavy, lustrous, pure silk stockings. GIVES HISTORY OF NAMING OF SALTON SEA

Great Inland Body of Water, Long a Mystery, Is Again Drying Up

San Bernardino Sun: Twice within the memory of present residents of Southern California the Salton sea has been a nine-days wonder—and now it is drying up so fast that on the south and east sides, half a mile of dry land is given back by the sea annually. Each year the new land is claimed, broken by the plow and seeded, and the acreage is added to the wealth-producing area of the Imperial valley.

According to Edgar F. How's El Centro weekly, the "Zanjero," the sea has been thus receding for a decade and experts who have studied the subject it to continue the drying-up process until eventually it will have receded fifteen miles further, when the sea will then have been reduced to a point where the inflow from waste irrigation water will equal evaporation, and henceforth the size of the body of water will remain stationary.

"Zanjero" gives this interesting history: "Salton sea had been existence many times before the historical period, beyond a doubt, but it was not until the summer of 1891 that came prominently to the attention of the country. The salt works at the desert station of Salton was the only inhabited spot on the desert before and when the water of the Colorado river broke in, the general public had no idea where it came from. The newspapers of the whole nation commented on the appearance of the body of water as the great mystery of the time.

"Two newspaper men were sent to Salton the same day to investigate it but there was nothing to be learned there. The day was blistering hot, and as they lay in the shelter of the desert they swapped ideas as to a name to be bestowed upon the water. It was with something like contempt that they decided upon the name of Salton Sea as a designation. The name stuck, though the water disappeared for a number of years, when it reappeared the name was still there to greet them, and has hung on tenaciously through on several attempts since to fasten more favored names considerable effort has been bestowed.

"On the occasion of the first appearance of the water, it lasted but four or five years, the body not being nearly so large as later.

It was in 1905 that the present Salton sea became a reality and really spread terror through the valley as the whole volume of the Colorado river was poured through great gashes ripped in the valley silt until it reached the below-sea-level basin that formed the sea. Millions were spent through two years before the runaway river was curbed, and such an immense body of water was created that, with the accretions of waste water from irrigation, thirty years will have passed before it returns to the comparatively small limits that it will ultimately occupy.

Nobody knew definitely where the invasion of the early nineties came from, although it was suspected to be from the Colorado, although another theories we remember one to the effect that the water reached the sea by some underground passage from the river. The Imperial valley settlers of 1905 soon learned that the water did not come via underground passage.

Financial Diagnosis

In a confidential little talk to a group of medical students an eminent physician took up the extremely important matter of correct diagnosis of the maximum fee.

"The best rewards," he said, "come, of course, to the established specialist. For instance, I charge $25 a call at the residence, $10 for an office consultation and $5 for a telephone consultation."

There was an appreciative and envious silence, and then a voice from the back of the amphitheater, slightly thickened, spoke:

"Doc," it asked, "how much do you charge a fellow for passing you on the street?"—Chicago Journal.

A Thrifty Sailer

For two long years Jack had been courting Maggie. One evening, after a silence of nearly an hour, Maggie said shyly:

"I'll give ye a penny for ye thochts, Jack."

"Weel," replied Jack with sudden boldness, "I was just thinkin' hoo fine it wud be if ye were to gie me a bit kiss."

She complied demurely, and again there was a long silence until Maggie timidly ventured: "Wad ye think it's about, now, Jack? Anither?"

"Aye, na, lassie," was the reply. "I was just thinkin' that if ye gae me about time ye were payin' me that penny for ma thochts."—The Tatler.
